Perhaps we can answer some of your questions here

Who travels with us?

Basically our vacationers:

- enjoy making new friends and being with other people in a small group situation
- are cooperative and considerate of others
- are able to adjust within a reasonably short time to a new environment with the assistance of supportive staff
- are able to provide for their personal self-care needs with reminders or minimal assistance
- may have certain medical conditions but they do not impair their safety or welfare during their vacation
- are capable of functioning well within the 1:4 escort - vacationer ratio provided
- are behaviorally and medically stable
- are ambulatory

What about supervision?

Each trip is limited to 8 participants who travel with two staff escorts. They make every effort to help everyone feel welcome and comfortable in their new environment and to make new friends. They supervise the administration of medications, provide reminders and self-care assistance as needed and will monitor vacationer spending money upon request. They incorporate individual interests, preferences and choices throughout each trip to make each vacation a meaningful and memorable experience.

Our escorts are human service professionals familiar with persons with developmental disabilities. They come from professions such as therapeutic recreation, rehabilitation counseling, residential services, special education, social work, occupational therapy, physical therapy and nursing. They bring to each trip their experience and ability, their personal and professional commitment, and their fun-loving personality to provide successful, enjoyable, normalizing travel experiences for each vacationer.

What about trip costs?

The trip costs are all-inclusive - or as noted in trip description – they include transportation from the Western New York area (with cost adjustments to be easily made for those traveling with us from other areas), accommodations, all meals, tours and supervision. Spending money is needed primarily for the purchase of personal items, souvenirs, and postcards. A payment plan is available.

Please note, however that these costs are approximate and may change based on travel or accommodation costs not within our control. It has been our experience though that quoted costs do not differ significantly and one can expect to budget accordingly. We always take advantage of the most reasonably priced travel services

What happens after I send in my preliminary application?

After the preliminary application is received:

- the needs of the applicant are examined in relation to those needs being met while on a vacation
- accepted applicants are matched with one of their vacation choices based on availability (more than one choice should be included if possible – many trips fill up quite rapidly)
- accepted applicants will be notified in writing and will receive additional information pertaining to their vacation selection including a Supplementary Information Form which requests additional, pertinent personal data and a request for payment
- applicants who are not accepted into a vacation will be notified in writing.

The primary reasons an applicant generally is not accepted are: (a) their vacation selection (s) were filled to capacity (applicant may be placed on a waiting list or request other trip choices) or (b) it was felt that their needs could not adequately be met while on a vacation.

How do I attend one of the vacations if I live outside of Western New York?

Vacationers join us in many different ways depending upon the originating home-town of the traveler(s), the vacation destination, and the vacationer him/herself.

For example: Persons may be picked up en route for trips traveling by van or they may arrive at our destination by air or car where they are met upon arrival to join us for the vacation. There are obviously many variables and combinations of possibilities. We're happy to work with our travelers and those assisting them in arranging the easiest and most reasonable means of joining us. Transportation cost adjustments are made where applicable.

Are additional date and destination alternatives available?

Yes. We are often able to be quite flexible in meeting the needs and preferences of those who wish to travel with us. We recognize that trips in this brochure fill to capacity quite rapidly and, sometimes, variations in trip length or dates may be needed to meet the needs of families or residential programs. Thus, we frequently add trips to popular destinations for requested dates and at convenient departure sites. We enjoy bringing together people with similar interests for the shared experiences of a vacation and will make every effort to meet the request we receive. Just ask!
